for my Kuzmich Family Roots in Eastern Europe: Poland, Ukraine, Slovenia, Slovakia and Czech Republic Kuzmich Family History Ancestral Roots: Paternal and Maternal (note the entire village has been extracted for your convenience if you should have any ancestral roots in those villages). The following maps represent villages in Paternal/Maternal ancestors in Poland, Slovenia, Czech Republic, Slovakia and Ukraine where my ancestors came from. Give me time to validate the authenticity of the maps of the two villages in the Czech Republic for the origin of our Dlugi ancestors before 2022. My family is presently compiling information about each village with emphasis on their local history and cultural things to share with you. Villages encircled in red are the where these villages are located. Note: the longitude and latitude coordinates are also provided for your convenience to view in Google Maps where they are located within each country in Eastern Europe. When these local histories are completed, they will be posted at:

Technology is one of the greatest aids today in doing your genealogical endeavors. Fortunately, nearly every member of my family has been a part of the Team Kuzmich Extraction Project since 2010. We have used videoconferencing apps extensively to communicate with others coast-to-coast within our family since 2008. One son created our own secure, private Cloud storage place while another one has created an Excel Macro to convert .XLSM files seamlessly to GEDCOM and reverse engineered the process as well with 100% accuracy. While another one has gotten me actively into social networking. The results are that we have all this data which has been great for our family history pursuits and we feel it is appropriate to share the data with the world. And the social media is the perfect way to do so. Below are the ten Ethnic Eastern Europe Facebook Family History Groups that I belong to below where I will further promote my family history blog of <http://www.kuzmich.com/genealogy.blogspot.com> with the objective of networking with others to further expand my family history endeavor research capabilities.
